tion, at his Rooms, George-street, on FRIDAY, 17TH SEPTEMBER,
At 12 o'clock.
The following really quiet and well-
Cattle, all of which are the produce of D
Cova, and imported bulls:
100 Horned, 2 and 3 years old

THE STATION
is situated on the River Boyd, the mid-branch of the Clarmen, and well known "The Broadmeadows." It comprehends the sides of the river, as far as the falls of England, and is only 65 miles from the remote settlement, and the head of navigation. It is most abundantly watered, and its improvements consist of—
Two excellent salt flats Garden of upwards of two acres, with proof fence, and planted with young vi-land. Without sheep will at all times, g

8000 FIRST-RATE SHEEP;

RIGHT TO AN INVALUABLE
STATION AT GIPPS LAND.
MR. MORT
Has received instructions to sell by puaution, at his Rooms, George-street,
FRIDAY, 17TH SEPTEMBER,
AND
WITHOUT THE SLIGHTEST RESERVE,
ABOUT 8000 FIRST-RATE SHEEP

extensive Run, known as DEIGHTON,
being one of the nearest of the Gipps L Stations to PORT ALBERT, and the only one to be disposed of in district.
One moment's reflection will point to the most timid capitalist. Stockmen intending purchasers, of whatever class may be, that the present is a rare opportunity for securing a profitable fortune; and, as dependent of the profits arising from growing of wool in this unrivalled district the proprietor is at the very threshold of Van Diemen's Land market, whereas mere consumption has given a personal value to Gipps Land station which no other part of the colony can approach; and that we are made aware of the fact that New Zealand will have her standing army line of cattle and sheep, and the Commissioner, which must treble the price promised for fat stock at so convenient a as Port Albert, it becomes almost impossible to place a limitation to the profits which will accrue out of such a purchase as that advertised. It must be borne in mind that the Land is well adapted for the growing of grain, and that the Sheep will have a fleece upon their backs when handed over to the purchaser.
Mr. Charles Brown, the Superintendent for showing the sheep and station on application. To me very liberal.

TESTIMONIAL TO CAPTAIN M'KENNIE.

OF THE SCOTCH RELIEF FUND.

THE friends of Captain M'Kennie, late

Master and Owner of the well-known steamer Harold, recently lost in Torres

Strait, are desirous of presenting him with a Testimonial, to mark their personal esteem, and the sympathy they feel for him in the calamity which he has sustained through the loss of his vessel and entire property.

Captain M'Kennie is favourably known in the colony as an enterprising navigator, and commander of the Indian Archipelago, as well as of the Atlas, and the Northern Coast of Australia, having twice made the passage through Torres Strait to the eastward, a task generally considered impracticable for a sailing vessel.

It may also be stated that Captain M'Kennie has some claims on the consideration of the public from having given Dr. Leichhardt and his companions a free passage from Port

Essex to Sydney.

Subscriptions will be received at the Union

Bank and the Bank of Australia; also by

MONEY MARKET AND CITY INTELLIGENCE.

(From the Times, June 2.)

Tuesday evening.
The premium on gold at Paris is 17 per mille, which, at the English Mint price of £3 17s. 10½d. per ounce for standard gold, gives an exchange of 25.58; and the price at Paris on London at short being 25.62½, it follows that gold is 0.18 per cent. dearer in London than in Paris.

By advices from Hamburg the price of gold is 454½ per mark, which, at the English Mint price of £3 17s. 10½d. per ounce for standard gold, gives an exchange of 13.98; and the exchange at Hamburg on London at short being 13.91, it follows that gold is 0.39 per cent. dearer in Hamburg than in London.

The course of exchange at New York on London is 107 per cent.; and the rate of exchange between England and America being 109 25-100 per cent., it follows that the exchange is 2.58 at New York against England. But the quoted exchange at New York being for bills at 60 days' sight, the interest must be deducted from the above difference.

The English funds have to-day shown less firmness. Consols opened languidly at 88 for money, and 88½ for the account. A rally, however, subsequently occurred, and they went to 89 for money, and 89½ for the account, at which quotations they closed. During the day a considerable sale took place on behalf of the savings banks. Scrip left off ½d.; Bank Stock, 195 to 196; Reduced Three per Cent., 87; Three and a Quarter per Cent., 88½ to 89; Long Annuities, 9 to 1-16; India Stock, 244 to 245; and India Bonds, 2s. 6d. to 2s. 7d. Exchequer bills are again at a critical point, the price being par to 3s. premium.

Mexican stock was done at 20 for money, and at 20½ for the account. The other bargains in the foreign market were insignificant. They comprised Brazilian, at 82½; Ecuador, at 21; Portuguese, at 33; Tunis, at 109; Spanish Three per Cent., at 34; for the account, at 34½; Belgian Two-and-a-Half per Cent., at 53; Dutch Two-and-a-Half per Cent., at 54½; and the Four per Cent. Certificates at 90.

There was not much business transacted to-day in the foreign exchanges. The price for bills upon Hamburg was again rather higher, and that for Frankfurt a trifle lower. For other places the rates remained about the same as last post.

At a special meeting held to-day of the Madras Railway Company, another instance was furnished of the effects of the course pursued by the East India Company regarding the introduction of railways into India. The meeting was called to consider the advisability of winding up, in consequence of the hopelessness of proceeding under the present aspect of monetary affairs, coupled with the discouragement experienced by the directors in the intention of the authorities in Leadenhall-street, and the apparent absence of any active desire on their part to forward the object in view—an indifference which had been manifested to such an inexpressible degree as to lead them to permit a letter from the railway company, dated the 16th of April, requesting to be informed of the views of the Court preparatory to the meeting of this morning, to remain wholly unanswered. Under these circumstances the recommendation for a dissolution was, of course, immediately adopted, and the meeting separated after an expression of entire satisfaction on the part of the shareholders with all the steps of the directors, and with the arrangements proposed as to the return of the funds which may remain from the preliminary payment of £1 per share.

The shipments of gold from Russia on mercantile accounts to which we alluded yesterday appear to have arrived. The amount is understood to be about £300,000.

The intelligence from the wheat districts of France continues to be most favourable for the growing crops. The vintage also promises to be abundant. From all quarters we hear of the striking change which has lately become apparent, and of the general state of the weather. The latest reports from the various markets, with a solitary exception, notice a fall in the value of grain of from 1s. to 7d. per hectolitre.

The intelligence by the India mail to-day proceeded no effect in the city, all commercial matters being evidently in the same condition as at the departure of the previous steamer. Letters from Alexandria to the 24th of May report that the advance in the English grain market had caused great activity, and that some wheat had changed hands at 54s. to 55s., including shipping charges and freight. A foreign vessel had been taken up for wheat at 14s. 9d. A small transaction in Government flax had been effected at £36 10s. per ton on board. Exchange had slightly improved, and was quoted 96 pence per pound sterling.

The continental papers state that a prolific coal mine has recently been discovered near Turano, the capital of Exterior Abruzzi, and that the quality of the article is almost equal to our Newcastle produce. The Government, it is understood, will take the working of the ground into their own hands.

The same papers affirm that the silver mines of Kongsberg, in Norway, have supplied during the first quarter of the current year 10,700 marks of virgin silver, which have been disposed of to the Bank of Denmark for about £2300. It is also asserted that the returns of these mines have lately much increased.

In connection with the question of mineral productions, it will be seen that France, notwithstanding recent discoveries, is still greatly indebted to foreigners (principally the English) for large quantities of materials necessary for her metal manufactures. The following details concern the imports of these articles for the month of April last compared with the two previous years:

Articles.	1847.	1848.	1849.
Rough Iron .....	76,067	89,913	54,590
Metrical Quintals .....	2,079,800	1,667,062	2,330,127
Rough Lead .....	18,961	18,296	14,221
Zinc .....	18,543	9,229	9,632
Rough Tin .....	908	1,257	1,692
Copper .....	10,112	4,977	7,475

Subjoined are the particulars of imports during the first four months of the years —

Articles.	1847.	1848.	1849.
Coal .....	6,295,636	5,578,273	5,030,920
Rough Iron .....	331,073	245,873	173,547
Copper .....	27,751	13,223	22,060
Tin .....	2,095	2,980	2,991
Zinc .....	35,400	28,568	18,686

It will be perceived from this statement, that the imports of coal and iron have considerably increased. The increase in coal during 1848 compared with 1846 amounted to 517,353 metrical quintals; and during 1847 compared with 1846, to 918,363 metrical quintals. The increase in iron amounted to 73,326 metrical quintals, comparing 1846 with 1845; and to 85,200 metrical quintals, comparing 1847 with 1846.

At the end of the month of April there were in stock 74,637 quintals of iron, 917 quintals of tin, 1029 quintals of copper, 78,606 quintals of lead, and 490 quintals of zinc. The duties paid on iron during the four months above stated are returned at 1,826,934*l.*, and on coal at 1,427,006*l.* It is remarked that, with the exception of coffee, cotton, oil, and wool, there are no other articles which are so productive to the public treasury.

During the proceedings of the committee on the navigation laws an argument repeatedly urged has been the difficulty of competing with foreign shipbuilders under the present high wages, desultory habits, and independent spirit of the shipwrights and caulkers, the maintenance of which is fostered by a system of competition. It is pointed out, however, that these evils are not to be taken for granted as irremediable, and that probably they would be found on a fair investigation to originate in some objectionable mode of business among the shipbuilders by whom they are complained of. At present we hear the charges but not the defence, and a correspondent urges that the men should select some parties from their own body, and request to be heard before the committee. Whatever might be the result, there can be little doubt that by this means much valuable information, calculated to benefit both the men and their masters, would finally be arrived at.

Whether the ships marked thus (*), at present under the command of Vice-Admiral Sir W. Parker, will be detached from their service in the Tagus to follow Sir C. Napier, remains to be seen.

The Vengeance is on her way to this port and is hourly expected from the West Indies.

She will refit, take in her lower deck guns, and equip for other than troop service, placing herself under the order of Sir Charles Napier. The Odin is getting ready to join with as much despatch as possible, and the Centaur will be put in commission in a day or two, and if not ready to join when the sailing orders arrive, will most probably follow.

The squadron above enumerated comprises the finest and best ships in the world, built on designs by the most approved architects or after the most perfect models, the St. Vincent, Howe, Caledonia, and Trafalgar, having been built by the late Sir William Rule, the latter improved by Mr. Lang; the Queen, Superb, Centaur, Gladiator, Bulldog, and Polyphemus, by the surveyor of the navy; the Vengeance and Amphion by Messrs. the Yard, and the Birkenhead by Laird.

The squadron will victual here, which will be a source of considerable benefit to the tradesmen of the locality and the watermen, who invariably reap rich harvest from the traffic carried on with the shore; the latter especially, on account of the vast number of visitors who flock from the metropolis and other places to visit the "wooden walls of old England."

We are informed that Lord Frederick Fitzclarence, Lieutenant-Governor of Portsmouth and Commander-in-Chief of the South-west District, contemplates having the quarters of the various troops in this garrison cleaned and repaired next month, pending which proceedings the troops will all be encamped on Southsea Common. Should this prove correct (and we have no reason to doubt it at present, the military and marine quarters being alike destitute of comfort and cleanliness) the spectacle will be one of the most imposing and gratifying ever exhibited on our shores. A large fleet at Spithead and a small army encamped under the walls, will give Portsmouth the appearance of a citadel blockaded by sea and besieged by land, the draw-bridges being drawn up and the moats filled serving to assist the illusion.

In the above list we have enumerated the ships and steamers actually under the orders of Sir Charles Napier, and these most likely to be placed under his command, and taken as a whole will, we doubt not, be found ultimately correct.

Rear-Admiral of the Blue, William H. Sherrett, late Captain-Superintendent of Chatham dockyard, is named amongst others as most likely to succeed Rear-Admiral Sir George Seymour, K.B., K.G.H., in the chief command on the Pacific station, and to hoist his flag in the Asia, 84, at Sheerness.

DEATH OF MR. O'CONNELL.

(From Bell's Weekly Messenger, May 24.)

This event, which has been looked for almost daily for some time past, took place at Genoa during the evening of the 15th May. The following letter, written by Dr. Duff, an English physician residing at Genoa, contains a full account of the circumstances attending the death of Mr. O'Connell:—

"Some account of the closing scenes of the life of an individual who has shed so remarkable a position in the world as Daniel O'Connell, must prove interesting to the generality of your readers, and I therefore, as an English physician, called in to attend him, take leave to lay before you the following statement:— On Monday, May 10, I saw Mr. O'Connell for the first time, and he was then suffering from profuse and involuntary diarrhoea, with great pain in the abdomen under pressure, strong rapid pulse, flushed face, &c. Mr. O'Connell had also chronic bronchitis of some years standing. From the remedies employed these systems were much ameliorated, and on the morning of the 11th he seemed convalescent. But from Mr. O'Connell's great repugnance to swallow even the most simple medicine, this state of improvement could not be followed up. On the evening of Tuesday, the 11th, the new symptom of congestion of the brain presented itself. Active measures were immediately resorted to, and from them there was a decided improvement. Again the aid of internal remedies was denied—Mr. O'Connell refusing to take any medicine. Towards the evening of Wednesday, the 12th, the symptoms increased. — Mr. O'Connell was restless, and sometimes slightly incoherent. Our former measures were again employed, but with slight success. During Thursday, all the symptoms increased, with great tendency to sleep, from which, however, he could easily be roused; the breathing was much embarrassed; circulation became difficult and in some degree indurated, and the mind wandered. Thursday night was passed in a state of profound heavy sleep, with increased difficulty of breathing, and in addressing those about him, he imagined himself in London, and spoke to them as if there. On Friday, he was much worse, the breathing very laborious, the voice scarcely audible, and the words half-articulated; all the symptoms had increased. In this state he lingered on till Saturday night, seemingly conscious of the presence of those about him, but neither attempting to move nor speak. My treatment of Mr. O'Connell was always in conjunction with Dr. Beretta, of this place, and a young French physician, who had accompanied him from Lyons, and on the day preceding his demise, we had the advantage of consulting with Dr. Viviani, the oldest practitioner of Genoa, and of high repute. By his advice, and as a last resource, a further application of leeches to the temples was advised, but all was in vain; he expired last night at half-past nine o'clock, apparently suffering from pain. During the whole time of our attendance upon Mr. O'Connell it was with the greatest difficulty he could be induced to take medicine, or even necessary food, and he was severely abstained from drink for forty hours. Had this been otherwise, the period of death might have been protracted, but his failing health and spirit, with constant tendency to cerebral congestion, rendered certain his death at no very distant period.

PARLIAMENTARY BUSINESS.

(From Bell's Weekly Messenger, May 24.)

The measures of the past week bear the character of the business which usually occupies the house in every week preceding an adjournment for the holidays. It has consisted in advancing the stages of pending bills, and in occasional official answers to questions of some importance put by different members. The three bills advanced and some of them concluded, so far at least as regards any future discussion, have been the Factory Ten Hours Bill, the Poor Law Amendment Commission Bill, and the Army Enlistment Bill.

It is sufficient to say of the Factory Bill that

MEETINGS OF RELIGIOUS SOCIETIES.

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY.—On Tuesday, May 4, the annual meeting of the Church Missionary Society took place in Exeter Hall. The Rev. J. B. Bickerton, M.P., presided, and amongst others on the platform were the Marquis of Chomondley, the Bishop of Winchester, Lord R. Chalmers, Sir R. H. Inglis, Bart., M.P., Major General Baker, the Rev. R. Bickerton, &c. The report expressed the Rev. satisfaction of the committee in stating that the proceedings of the society had prospered beyond all precedent, both at home and abroad, during the past year. At the last anniversary there was a falling off in comparison with the preceding year of £2774. This year the society had not only recovered that depression, but its income had risen to an amount exceeding that of any former year. The receipts for the past year to the general fund, received in England were £101,786 14s. 2d.; in special funds (sick and disabled missionary fund, capital fund, China and other missions), £4601 15s. 7d.; and to which the sum raised and expended in the several missions of the society, £10,429 8s. 3d.: made the total income of the society for the past year £116,827 18s. 2d., a sum exceeding that received the preceding year by £14,389 18s. 6d. This increase was attributable to the large number of legacies, including that of the late John Scott, Esq., of £7321, after payment of all duties. In the West Africa mission a steady progress had been made, and although during the year six ordained missionaries had been absent through ill health on a visit to Europe, those who had attended public worship had increased from 698 to 7241. The East Africa, North-West, American, and other stations of the society, were all progressing with the most marked success, as were also those in the island of Ceylon and the south of India. The Bishop of Winchester, the Rev. E. Bickerton, the Rev. Dr. Jeune, Master of Pembroke College, Sir R. H. Inglis, and several other gentlemen, addressed the meeting.

RUSSIAN SOCIETY OF LONDON.—On Thursday, May 6, the 26th anniversary of this society, for promoting the education and religious instruction of the native Irish, through the medium of their own language, was held at the Hanover-square Rooms. The Earl of Galloway in the chair. On the platform were the Bishop of Cashel, Lord Ashley, Lord Lifford, and the Dean of Clogher. The report detailed the operations and progress of the society in the various districts throughout Ireland. The number of schools was upwards of 700, and the pupils were on the increase. A great number of Bibles, Testaments, Portions, Prayer-books, &c., had been distributed. The funds had greatly exceeded those of the past year, the receipts being £9861 6s. 8d., and the expenditure £8420 0s. 2d., leaving a balance of £1261 6s. 7d.

WESLEYAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of the friends and supporters of this Society took place on Monday, May 3, at Exeter Hall. Sir C. E. Smith presided. From the report of the Society's proceedings during the past year, it appeared that since the last annual meeting no less than twenty-five new missionaries had been sent out to foreign countries. The income for the year amounted to £116,762 3s. 2d., the ordinary annual expenditure to £111,594 8s. 8d., and the balance over the expenditure of £4277 14s. 6d., which, added to £766 14s. 10d., a surplus balance of the previous year, made a total balance in favour of the society of £4994 9s. 4d. The income showed a decided increase in the amount of subscriptions from all quarters. The report went on to detail the operations of the society's agents at the various missionary stations abroad, which it spoke of as having been very successful. It further stated that the committee's intention was to commence a mission in the empire of China, and that arrangements were going on for carrying out that great and important undertaking. The Rev. E. Bickerton, Rector of Wotton, moved "That the report be received and published." He attended that meeting, as a clergyman of the Church of England, to show the sympathy he felt in the labours of his Wesleyan brethren, because he considered it the duty of every Christian to assist in sending out to the heathen, far and wide, those means of salvation which they themselves enjoyed (cheers). The other speakers on the occasion were the Rev. Dr. King, of Glasgow, the Rev. George Osborne, the Rev. John Jordan, Vicar of Enstone; the Rev. Dr. Hannah, the Rev. F. Boucher, of Paris; the Rev. Ed. Craig, M.A., of St. James's, Pentonville; the Rev. Dr. Morrison, of Chelsea; the Rev. T. Smith, the Rev. Thomas Wanga, from Ireland; the Rev. Thomas Hudson, from India; and the Rev. Dr. Newton.

CHURCH PASTORAL AID SOCIETY.—The 12th annual meeting of this society was held on Tuesday, May 11, at Exeter Hall. Lord Ashley presided. The report stated that during the past year the Earl of Denbigh, Earl of Warrington, and the Bishop of Melbourne, had accepted the office of vice-presidents, and Lord Tegenmuth that of vice-president. The total receipts of the year were £29,941 6s. 10d., exhibiting an increase of £745 6s. 3d. Of this increase, however, £7321 arose from the legacy of the late John Scott, Esq. The committee had appropriated only £2000, investing the remainder in Long Annuities, terminating in 1890, and producing £2518 per annum; the available income may therefore be reckoned at £24,940 6s. 10d., while the expenditure has been £24,800. No fewer than 119 new grants had been made in the year, four of which were for chaplains over labourers on railroads; the society now aids 314 incumbents, having under their charge a population of 2,193,640, or each on the average, 6977; and 174 are without parsonage houses. The Bishop of Winchester moved the adoption of the report, and urged upon the meeting that it was their duty to make strenuous efforts to support the society. The Bishop of Oxford seconded the resolution; with the adoption of which, and others of a routine nature, the meeting closed.

PRAYER BOOK AND HOLY SOCIETY.—The annual meeting was held on Monday, May 10, at Exeter Hall, the Marquis of Chomondley presiding. The receipts for the year amounted to £2945 4s. 4d., out of which a balance remained of upwards of £200, which was remarkable, as there had been a deficiency during the preceding year. The report proceeded at great length to detail the progress which the society had made in the translation of the Prayer Book into the Chinese and other languages, and their sale and diffusion in different parts of the world. The number of ships and other vessels, visited or revisited in the London river or docks during the year amounted to 2613. In 485 of these ships divine worship was regularly held, and 493 of the commanders neglected that duty. The society had also prosecuted its labours in the emigration, and had established an agency to supply her Majesty's vessels at Chatham and elsewhere with books. The Dean of Bangor, the Rev. Dr. Marsh, the Rev. J. W. Weckes, and other gentlemen, delivered addresses.

BURTON AND FOREIGN SCHOOLS SOCIETY.—On Tuesday, June 1, the special general meeting of this society, held in the school-room in the Borough-road, was crowded with members. There were present Earl Waldegrave, Burlington, Fitzwilliam and Chichester, Lord Montagu, the Bishop of Norwich, Dr. Lushington, Sir G. Rose, Sir C. Lemon, M.P.; the Hon. C. Howard, M.P.; Lord J. Stewart, M.P.; Lord R. Grosvenor, M.P.; Lord E. B. Bickerton, M.P.; the Hon. Vernon Smith, M.P.; Sir T. Acland, Bart.; Sir W. Sterling, Bart.; Mr. J. Denison, M.P.; Mr. R. Ingham, M.P.; Dr. Conquest, Dr. Burnett, Dr. Roper, Mr. D. Hanley, M.P.; Mr. J. Labouchere, Mr. G. Barclay, Mr. Alexander, and a great number of clergymen and members of deputations from auxiliary societies. The meeting had been looked forward to with great anxiety, it being to elect from the governors and committee their opinion whether they intended to receive the Government educational grant or repudiate it. The chair was taken by Mr. S. Gurney, and the business was commenced by Mr. Dunn, the secretary, explaining to the meeting why they had been called together; after which the Rev. J. Burnett, who spoke at considerable length against the reception of the grant, to receive which he thought would compromise their independence, moved a resolution to the effect, that "the society should remain neutral from expressing an opinion, and rely on its own efforts for its support." Mr. Alexander seconded the proposed resolution. Dr. Lushington, in a speech of great argumentative power, replied to the gentleman who had preceded him, and moved an amendment that the meeting, approving the course hitherto adopted by the committee in reference to Government aid, and relying on their expressed determination to maintain the principle of independence of the society, deemed it best for the interests of the society to continue the discretion of the committee the acceptance or rejection of any further aid from the state. The amendment having been seconded by Lord Montagu, and supported by Mr. J. Labouchere, the Bishop of Norwich and others, was put from the chair, and carried by an overwhelming majority. A vote of thanks was then passed to the chairman, and the business closed.

BURTON FOREIGN SCHOOLS SOCIETY.—The annual meeting was held on Thursday, May 14, at Willis's Rooms, Mr. Hoare presiding. The report spoke of the great increase of Romanism of late years, as evinced by the support of Roman Catholic Colleges, churches, and chapels, and the number of converts to its faith. During 1846, and the portion of 1847 that had elapsed, the society had been engaged in many important operations. Meetings had been held in almost every part of the country, by which the progress of Popery had been considerably checked. The agents of the society had also been at work in the metropolis, and, as a proof of the success of their exertions, the Committee instructed the fact that the district of St. Giles's alone upwards of 800 Roman Catholic families had been visited, and the Scriptures read and distributed. The receipts for the past year amounted to £1035 13s. 9d., and the expenditure to £1390 16s. 5d. The liabilities amounted to about £200. The adoption of the report was moved by the Rev. Mr. Bickerton, who spoke generally of the progress which Protestantism was making, and seconded by the Rev. J. Ralph, the Rev. P. Hall, Dr. Cumming, the Rev. W. Hatchard, and other gentlemen addressed the meeting.

LOTHIAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.—On Thursday, May 14, the annual meeting of this society took place in the Great Room, Exeter Hall, which was densely crowded. Sir E. N. Buxton, Bart., occupied the chair, and was supported by Sir C. E. Smith, Bart.; Rev. Dr. Hamilton; Rev. Dr. Leifchild, &c. The report entered into a statement of the advantages which had resulted from the efforts of the mission in foreign parts. In the East Indies, China, Madagascar, and the South Sea Islands, the most marked success had attended the efforts of the society, and in British India its efforts had induced upwards of 6000 persons to renounce idolatry. The income of the present year amounted to £76,319, and the expenditure to £75,724. The Rev. Mr. Alexander, of Edinburgh, moved the adoption of the report, which was seconded by the Rev. J. Burnett, and carried unanimously. Sir C. E. Smith, Dr. Hamilton, Campbell, Leifchild, and other gentlemen, addressed the meeting on behalf of the society.

SOCIETY FOR THE PROPAGATION OF THE GOSPEL IN FOREIGN PARTS.—On Thursday, May 20, a large and influential meeting was held at Willis's Rooms, St. James's, specially convened by requisition to the Lord Bishop of the diocese, to consider the claims of the Incorporated Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts. The Lord Bishop of London took the chair, and was supported by the Bishop of Tasmania, the Bishop designate of Adelaide, Lord John Manners, M.P., the Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone, the Rev. Ernest Hawkins, B.D., Prebend of St. Paul's, and a large number of the clergy and nobility. The Right Rev. Prebend opened the proceedings by observing that the mission of the Church was universal, and it was the duty of every Christian to endeavour to convey the truths of the gospel into those dark places of the earth where they had never been heard of. It was the duty of every member of Christ's Church to extend the blessings of the gospel into every part of the world. This was the object of the Society for Propagating the Gospel in Foreign Parts. They went forward to occupy the waste lands of the Gentiles and fertilize them. The Church of England endeavoured to fulfil Christ's mission in three ways. First, it provided for those at home who had been born in its own parishes, and nursed in its own arms; secondly, it endeavoured to provide means for granting spiritual consolation to those who had been driven forth on the face of the world; thirdly, the Church takes the direction in endeavouring to enlighten the heathen, which was done by their Missionary Society. The Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts had been in existence for upwards of one hundred and fifty years, during which period it had acted as the Church's almoner. It was mainly owing to that society that religion had been extended with any degree of security in our colonial possessions. The society had effected an amount of good far beyond what could have been expected from the limited means which it possessed. The society had been the means of providing, for the last hundred and fifty years, everything which was valuable to an immortal soul abroad. But he would not dwell on that point, as there were gentlemen present from places where the society's benefits had been for many years properly appreciated. His lordship then alluded to the good which might be accomplished for the society by the establishment of parochial associations in every parish in the Kingdom. With regard to the St. James's Association, he considered it one which ought to be the means of largely assisting the society. The society's offices were in the parish, and every inhabitant had an opportunity of seeing how the society's affairs were conducted. He believed there was not a parish in the metropolis in which there was more wealth than in that, and therefore there was no parish which ought more liberally to assist the society by adding to its funds. His lordship concluded by calling upon the meeting and the inhabitants of the parish to assist the society to the utmost of their power. Lord John Manners, M.P., proposed, "That the propagation of the Gospel is an object which all Christians are bound to promote, and that Englishmen who are enjoying those blessings at home, were bound to provide for the spiritual wants of their brethren abroad." A few words from him would be sufficient to recommend the resolution to the hearts of all present. The propagation of the Gospel was an object which every one was bound to promote. The only question was, how could they fulfil that object? He must say that governments in days gone by had not behaved towards the Church as they should have done. They had left the Church to perform that which the government ought to have done. Many efforts had certainly been made, and many plans proposed; but still they were all left for the Church to carry out. It had been said that we had enough to do to protect ourselves at home, and therefore we must neglect our colonies. He could not agree to this assumption. A great effort had been made by the Church, when, nearly 150 years ago, they established the Propagation Society—a society, which he believed had been instrumental in doing more for the Gospel than any other society. His lordship then proposed the resolution: The Bishop of Tasmania seconded the resolution; in doing so he remarked that we were for upwards of two hundred years in possession of an immense colonial empire, before it occurred to the nation that it was their duty to support the Church in its missionary efforts. He thanked God that they lived in days when those errors had been corrected. He considered it was mainly owing to the exertions of the Lord Bishop of London that we were making such rapid strides towards perfection in our Church in the colonies. It was a very strange fact that in 1708, when we first commenced sending transports to Tasmania, the vessel was ready to start before any person thought of providing for the spiritual wants of the unfortunate convicts; there was not a single minister or spiritual teacher engaged, and had not a good and holy man volunteered, these poor creatures, who were about leaving their country for an almost unknown land, some for long periods, and some of them for ever, would have been entirely without spiritual consolation. The spiritual instruction now given to the convicts was anything but likely to reform them. As soon as a convict arrives in Tasmania, he is put into a gang of 400 or 500, where he had very little spiritual instruction; and to this he (the Bishop) attributed the number of crimes that were committed in the penal settlements. The population of Tasmania was 60,000, 30,000 of whom were convicts: out of this population, in one year, nine persons were hanged for murder, which was equal to taking the population of England at 15,000,000, to 2000; in the same period 18,000 police cases occurred (independently of those taken before the colonial magistrates), which would be equal to 5,000,000 in this country. He warned the government to beware in time (for he believed it was mainly owing to the spiritual wants of the people that lost our American possessions,) lest the country take example of other colonies, and ever itself from us.—The Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone moved the next resolution—"That the history and character of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, its sound principles, and the manifold blessings which have been conferred through it, entitles the society to the support of the members of the Church of England." They had been addressed by persons who either from their official connection with the society, or by their residence in the colonies, were equally able to articulate their views. For himself he had nothing to urge for coming before the meeting. He was not even a resident of the parish, but still he thought it was a duty he owed to the Church upon all occasions, where he could assist it by his voice and presence, to do so. If they looked back to the history of the society, they would find that it came before them as one of the ablest missionary institutions in the country. It had struggled against the ungodliness of the times gone by. It had been a powerful instrument in the hands of the Almighty in disseminating the truths of the Gospel. If any person wished to trace the history of the Church for the last 150 years, they could not do better than consult the annals of the society. The character of the works it undertakes, and not only undertakes but performs, gives it a strong claim upon the members of the Church of England. The Church Missionary Society had been the means of doing much good; but its operations were not confined so closely to our own countrymen as the Propagation Society, which enabled us to discharge the objects towards our own flesh and blood. The Bishop designate of Adelaide seconded the resolution. He strongly urged upon the meeting the necessity of supporting the society as liberally as they possibly could. If the public supported the society, he believed they would be enabled to effect an immense amount of good, which would be felt not only in our colonies but by the Government at home, as he believed there could be more good effected by spiritual instruction than by the strong arm of the law. The resolution having been put was carried unanimously. His Lordship said he must now vacate the chair, as he had important duties to go to in the House of Lords. The Rev. J. Jackson, M.A., rector of St. James's, Piccadilly, then took the chair, and several other gentlemen addressed the meeting, among whom was the Rev. Ernest Hawkins, B.D., who, in a speech of considerable length and great ability, strongly urged the claims of the society, after which the meeting separated.

THE BRITISH AND FOREIGN SCHOOL SOCIETY.—The winter annual meeting of this society was held on Monday, May 2nd, in the large room at Exeter Hall. Samuel Gurney, Esq., presided, and was supported by the Earl of Chichester, Lord Ebrington, M.P., Sir Walter Stirling, Bart., R. Vernon Smith, Esq., M.P., H. Pownall, Esq., John Wilks, Esq., William Tooke, Esq., Rev. Dr. Burnett, Rev. Mr. Binney, Rev. G. Clayton, and other ministers and gentlemen.—The Chairman, in his opening address, regretted the absence of his president (Lord John Russell) a circumstance which he believed was not attributable to any declaration of interest on his part in the great cause of unsectarian education. He (the Chairman) gave the noble lord credit for being as friendly as ever to their society, and presumed that his absence was entirely owing to his pressing political engagements. From the report, which was read by the secretary, it appeared that the number of students in the society's training schools was 232, of whom 44 were in training at the date of the last report; 189 had been received since that time; 23, from various causes, had withdrawn from the institution. In the female schools there had been 360 scholars during the year, making a total since its foundation of 17,424. 146 new schools had been established in different localities—namely 32 in the manufacturing districts, 49 in towns and villages, 11 in London, 6 in places not coming within these denominations, and 48 in North and South Wales. The receipts of the year had been £11,742 11s. 3d. The report concluded with an urgent appeal on behalf of the society.—The Rev. George Clayton moved the adoption of the report.—The Right Hon. Vernon Smith, in seconding the resolution, regretted the absence of their noble president Lord John Russell, of Lord Grey, and those other gentlemen who had so ably addressed them on many past anniversaries. (Signs of disapprobation.) He was glad to say that it was not the intention on the present occasion to make that platform the arena of gladiatorial discussion, however desirous they might be on such an occasion to protest against that invasion of privilege to which certain parties in the country had lately been called upon to submit. (Cheers.)—The resolution was adopted.—The Earl of Chichester moved the second resolution to the following effect:—"That this meeting respectfully and gratefully acknowledge the continued efforts and most recent support of Her Majesty the Queen and Prince Albert."—Mr. Sergeant Thompson seconded the resolution, and it was carried unanimously.—The Rev. S. R. Hall moved a resolution expressive of thanks to the Duke of Bedford for his continued support to the society, and to Mr. Gurney for presiding. Lord Ebrington seconded the resolution, and Mr. Gurney acknowledged the compliment contained in it.—The Rev. Dr. Burnett having been loudly called for, addressed the meeting.—After some routine business the meeting separated.

ARRIVAL OF THE GRAND DUKE CONSTANTINE.
(From the Times, May 24.)

WOOLWICH, MAY 22.—The Black Eagle steam-vessel, under the command of Captain the Hon. F. T. Polham, arrived at Woolwich dockyard this morning, at a quarter past ten o'clock, with His Imperial Highness the Grand Duke Constantine on board from Rotterdam. The Grand Duke was accompanied by Vice-Admiral Lütke, Count Lersing, Aide-de-Camp to his Imperial Highness; Count Orloff, Aide-de-Camp to the Emperor of Russia; and Dr. Horowitz. The Grand Duke is a young man about twenty years of age, Lord High Admiral of the Russian Navy, and second son of the Emperor of Russia.

On the arrival of the Black Eagle, Commodore Sir Gordon Bremer, K.C.B. and K.C.H., with Lieutenant Fowler, flag-lieutenant, went on board to receive the Imperial Highness the Grand Duke, and conveyed the Royal visitor to the shore in the barge of the William and Mary yacht. On landing, his Imperial Highness was received by Lieutenant-General Sir Thomas Downman, C.B., Commandant of the Garrison; Colonel Powell, of the Royal Marines; Major Cuppage, Brigade-Major; and Captain Tylden, Deputy-Assistant-Quartermaster-General; Captain Hall, of the Dragoon, steam-frigate; Commander Potbury, of the Growler steam-vessel, with a number of naval and military officers, Mr. Lang, master shipwright; Mr. Jenkins, store-receiver; and several of the heads of the departments in the dock-yard, and the Secretary to the Russian Embassy from London.

A guard of honour of the Royal Marines, with the band and colours of the regiment, under the command of Captain Johns, and a field-battery of the Royal Artillery, under the command of Major Cator, were in attendance from 7 o'clock a.m., and immediately on his Imperial Highness landing, a Royal salute was fired, the guard of honour presenting arms, and the band playing the National Anthem.
